OKANAGAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

2024-2025

WELCOME TO SEASON 65 WITH THE OKANAGAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA (OSO)!

For six and a half decades, the OSO has enriched the Okanagan Valley with captivating symphonic performances. We invite you to join us for an unforgettable season, one filled with excitement, anticipation and celebration.

Our selected Music Director audition candidates — Nadège Foofat, James Sommerville, Grant Harville and Julian Pellicano — and other guest conductors, along with a stellar lineup of Canadian soloists, will grace our stages. Each of our two series will showcase the orchestra and offer a rich musical journey for audiences. The Mainstage Series, our most classical offerings, weave together celestial wonder, soulful connections and virtuosic artistry, while the Celebration Series highlights classical masterpieces, folk traditions and passionate tango rhythms.

Mark your calendars for upcoming performances, including Holst's iconic The Planets and pianist David Fung in October, cellist Rachel Mercer's emotional performance in November, and Handel's timeless oratorio Messiah for the holidays. Saxophonist Allen Harrington takes centre stage in February, and in March, fiddler Daniel Lapp celebrates folk music. Pre-eminent Chopin expert Janina Fialkowska dazzles in April with his Piano Concerto No. 1, and May brings Piazzolla's The Four Seasons of Buenos Aires with violinist Lara St. John.

Join us this season as we embark on this exciting new chapter in our 65-year history. Secure your subscription or individual tickets and experience the thrill of live OSO performances. You won't want to miss even one!

WELCOME TO SEASON 65! Since 1959 the OSO has enriched the cultural life of the Okanagan. In this season of transition, we invite you to come along with us as we carry out the search for our new music director. Join us!

OUR HEART & SOUL Versatile as well as highly skilled, the OSO performs repertoire from Baroque to contemporary and has demonstrated strong commitment to women, Canadian, and Indigenous artists and composers. The OSO's twenty "core" players along with many regular and occasional players — some of whom have been with the OSO for decades — are well-known to our audiences and contribute greatly to our communities. Our musicians truly are the heart and soul of the OSO. Get to know us!

SEE IT... HEAR IT... LOVE IT! With programs for every demographic — Symphony Story Time for the toddler set, more formal education programs for youth and teenagers, and the OSO Chorus for those who love to sing— the OSO fosters a love for live music in everyone. Expand your horizons with us!

OPEN DRESS REHEARSALS Each of this season's four Mainstage Series concerts feature an Open Dress Rehearsal that is open to the public, all at KCT at 2:00pm. Admission is by a suggested $20 donation at the door. To accommodate large groups, especially those using mobility aids, please contact us at least two days prior at admin@okanagansymphony.com. Experience the artistic process with us!

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES Community-minded individuals will find a wide variety of ways and many opportunities to work alongside OSO staff. Volunteer with us!

JOIN THE SOCIETY Beginning with the 2024/2025 season, membership in the Okanagan Symphony Society is no longer tied to ticket subscriptions. This change streamlines our governance and functioning and keeps us in compliance with the updated BC Societies Act. Visit our website to purchase your membership for $25. Move forward with us!

CONCERT CLOSE-UP Informal pre-concert chats take place one hour before each of our Mainstage Series concerts. A conductor, musician or guest soloist leads these free, 30-minute sessions that are the perfect way to learn more about the composers and the music that will be on that evening's concert program. Enhance your experience with us!

MUSICIANS IN THE MAKING Young musicians from the Kelowna Community Music School perform in the lobby of the Kelowna Community Theatre at our Mainstage Series concerts. Their performances begin at 7:00 pm, and they play for approximately 20 minutes. Celebrate youth with us!

MASTERCLASSES & WORKSHOPS The OSO offers masterclasses and workshops presented or facilitated by our renowned guest soloists. Advanced local music students can apply to participate in the masterclasses, while the public is welcome to audit them (admission is by donation at the door). Other workshops provide opportunities for local amateur musicians. Grow with us!

EDUCATIONAL OUTREACH The OSO presents several educational programs for children and youth throughout the valley. Ask your children's music or classroom teacher if our Symphony School Shows or Middle School Band Clinics can be part of their out-of-classroom curricular experiences. Advocate for music education with us!

OSYO The Okanagan Symphony Youth Orchestra celebrates the musical talent among youth in our region with a rigorous orchestral training program for students aged 12 – 25. An OSYO concert at its lower ticket price makes high quality classical music affordable to a wide market of music fans. See page 13 for details. Support youth with us!

WHAT TO WEAR? If uncertainty about what one should wear to a symphony concert is holding you back, we have good news! You are welcome at an OSO concert wearing whatever you are comfortable in — from ripped jeans and T-shirts to suits and ties or gowns. We do also remind you that all OSO venues are scent-free.

WHEN TO ARRIVE? An OSO concert starts at the designated time on your ticket. Late arrivees will be asked to wait in the lobby until a suitable break in the music (either the end of a movement or the next work) before entering the auditorium. We encourage you to arrive in plenty of time so you have time to purchase a glass of local wine, chat with other patrons, and be seated prior to the start of the concert.

WHEN TO CLAP? If you are worried you might clap at the wrong time, there's no need. No one will judge you for clapping when the music moves you. Here's a hint, though: watch for the conductor to put their baton down and then applaud all you want.

OKANAGAN SYMPHONY YOUTH ORCHESTRA

Astounding talent, dedication to excellence, and passion for music are hallmarks of the Okanagan Symphony Youth Orchestra, which is made up of music students aged 12 to 24 from throughout the Okanagan and is led by conductor Zeena Zaiyouna.

In addition to selections from all eras of the symphonic repertoire, OSYO concerts feature works created by participants in the Student Composition Program, and concerto performances by advanced players. These opportunities contribute to the rigorous orchestral education the OSYO provides its talented young musicians.

As well as these two dedicated concert cycles, the OSYO appears annually with the OSO, sitting side-by-side with their professional teachers and mentors in a featured collaboration.
